BASIC RULES OF EVIDENCE- Primary evidence from vital statistics, courthouse, or other government records is considered excellent proof. This would include birth certificates, marriage licenses, death certificates, military records and land deeds (where it states the individual was from Allen County.) Other primary evidence might include Bible records contemporary with the Bible's publication date, Diaries or letters that contain contemporary knowledge of the facts given. Secondary sources such as census records, newspaper clippings, county histories, and family records contemporary to the facts reported are considered supporting information only. Copy the pages involved, the title page and the copyright date for books. Give name of newspaper, location, page and date of publication for clippings. If a document merely implies a fact, this is not proof-such as a will that just names people without indicating the relationship. Female ancestors must be proven as individuals by their maiden names and have proof included for every name change if married.
